Traders National Bank Building To Be Occupied Within the Next Few Days

The new home for the Traders National Bank is practically completed and is one of the most modern structures in this section. The bank expects to move to its new quarters the latter part of this week and the offices on the second floor will be ready for occupancy within a few days.

The new home for this bank is as massive as it appears, made of stone, concrete, iron and little wood. With a beginning deep in the earth this building has a concrete and stone foundation and is numbered with the most complete buildings anywhere. The basement has a concrete floor and is supplied with an up-to-date furnace that heats the building with hot water. On this floor is a shower bath and also three large vaults in which to care for silverware, etc., with storage room for fuel.

The first floor is the banking room, entirely of marble and mahogany fixtures and furniture. The bank fixtures of octagon appearance and from entering the business room each department is visible to the patron. First to the right is the cashier's apartment with a private council room. There are two openings for tellers, one each for bookkeeper, savings department, safety deposits, etc. On the same floor is a ladies' rest room and fire and burglar proof vaults, clerk's lockers, consultation and director's rooms. There is an upstairs to this, commonly called gal-

The entire building will be janitor serviced with hot and cold water in each room. This is really a modern building, an imposing, architectural and convenient structure. It is constructed for the people and nothing is too good for them.

ATTRACTIVE GIRL BECOMES BRIDE

Miss Gertrude McNamara Becomes Bride of Prominent Carlisle Business Man

The marriage of Miss Gertrude McNamara, of this city, to Mr. Edward Mathias, of Carlisle, was solemnized Wednesday morning at five o'clock at St. Patrick's church by the Rev. Father Kalb. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present. Acting as maid of honor was the bride's lovely young sister, Miss Irene McNamara, while the groom was attended by his brother, John Mathias, of Carlisle, as best man. The bride was strikingly handsome in a tailored suit of dark blue, with hat and accessories to correspond. Her flowers were orchids. Miss McNamara is one of the charming group of daughters of Mrs. Patsy McNamara. She has for some years been bookkeeper in the local offices of the Cumberland Telephone Company and is regarded as a most efficient and capable business woman. Her sunny disposition and her ready wit and humor have won for her great popularity with her friends here and it is with sincere regret that they give her up as she will make her home elsewhere. Mr. Mathias is a successful young business man and comes of a prominent Blue Grass family. He is well known and liked here and has many friends who will rejoice with him in his good fortune. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to the East, and on their return will go to housekeeping in their new home in Carlisle.

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED

At Christian Endeavor Convention Which Was Held in This City Saturday and Sunday

The second annual Christian Endeavor Convention of the fifth district was held at the Presbyterian church October 25-26.

Mr. R. R. Murphy, of Winchester, president; L. C. Little, field secretary, from Louisiana, and Miss Anna Belle Stewart, secretary of intermediate work, from Mt. Vernon, were the workers present.

There were delegates from Hazel Green, Clay City, Morehead, Mt. Vernon, Winchester and Mt. Sterling. There were thirty-five registered. All the programs were very interesting, as well as helpful. Reports were given of the year's work from the various societies, also plans discussed for the new year.

Saturday evening just before the session the Endeavorers had a parade around through the town, singing their songs and giving their yells, and inviting folks to come to the evening session.

After the evening program a social was given at the church, where games were played, readings given and stunts performed. Refreshments were served during the hour.

In the absence of Dr. Yeaman, Mr. Murphy preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Sunday evening at 6:30 there were about sixty who came to Endeavor, to hear short talks on the subject, "What C. E. Has Meant to Me." Some very interesting things were told which convinced those present that C. E. is worth while and that it

LOCAL MARKET OPENS DEC. 3

Warehouses Are Rapidly Getting in Readiness for Opening—Record-Breaking Prices are Expected

The tobacco season will open in this city on December 3rd with the first sale at the Farmers' Warehouse. The sale at the Whitehall and the Robertson warehouses will be held on the days following.

From all indications the season here will be a most successful one. The local houses are rapidly being prepared to receive tobacco and are expecting a heavy run. Prices for the weed, sold both here and in the Carolinas, point to record-breaking prices, especially on the better grades. The opening sales here will likely be attended by unprecedented crowds, who will be eager to learn the trend of the market.

The Mt. Sterling houses offer every facility for handling your crop that can be had anywhere and it is hoped and expected that our farmers will favor the local markets. Let us urge every tobacco grower in this section to haul his tobacco to the Mt. Sterling market, where he is assured of the highest price, and the best of treatment.

The Elk's Cotillion Club of Winchester, will give a Halloween dance at the Elk's Ballroom on next Thursday evening, October 31st, from 9 to 3.

Smith's Sextette will furnish the music for the occasion.

This is being planned to be one of the largest dances ever given in that city and a large number of visitors are expected.

A DELIGHTFUL DAY

Mr. N. Y. Rupard, wife and daughters, Misses Charn, Sullie, Nancy and Martha Allen, of Clark county; W. S. and Gilbert Thomas, Miss Maggie and Mrs. John Thomas, made a surprise visit to the family of T. G. Thomas on the 23rd. It was an all day visit, such as we think of sometimes when alone, and we backward look. The dinner was just what our mothers used to prepare when company came in as these folks did. Just think of that dinner, delicious chicken, tender, highly seasoned and good gravy, old ham, all the vegetables of the season, big fat biscuits, hot and served with delightful jersey butter and good rich strained honey, peach preserves, if you prefer, coffee, palatable flavor, hot with revivifying effect, buttermilk, sweet milk, custard and sweet potato pies, cakes and ices, that just suit. A day for reviewing the past and anticipating the future. It was good to be there. A great day it was.

ED MORROW AND THE FARMERS

Edwin P. Morrow admits he opposed pardoning the Grant county farmers who had been convicted of violating the anti-trust laws in proceedings in the Federal Court. Morrow was district attorney when the farmers took an appeal from the district court which convicted them to the Court of Appeals, which affirmed their conviction. His name appears on the brief of the government in that appeal case, in spite of his declaration that "I had nothing to do with the prosecution of these farmers."

Now, it should be borne in mind that the Republican party never made a move against the tobacco trust while the tobacco war was on in Kentucky. The Governor of Kentucky did not even attempt to institute proceedings against the trust, whose exactions were rapidly making anarchists out of peaceful farmers, which robbed these farmers right and left without benefit of clergy, which offered them a price for their tobacco sometimes under the actual cost of production and assured them that they "could take it or leave it," and that was true; there was no other buyer. When the tobacco growers revolted against such conditions the heavy hand of the law was laid upon them, but not upon the trust. "My troops" even were called out to suppress violence caused by the robbery of the farmers by the trust, but not a move was ever made by the Republican administration, State or national, to relieve the suffering farmers.

Women and little children toiled through the burning heat of July and August to help the struggling husband and father raise a tobacco crop. He was unable to employ any other help. The trust took the crop, the tears of the mother and the worn children and their work having been in vain, the prices frequently amounting to confiscation. It is little wonder they wanted to do themselves what the government of their state and nation should have done for their protection. But in this case the Republican party ran "true to form." Always a trust party, kept in power by the trusts, like the devil himself it looked after its own. The farmers were the ones who got the axe. One who would vote for Ed. Morrow now deserves all that the G. O. P. may hand him in the neighborhood of the cervical vertebrae.

PRICE OF CIGAR WILL HELP BUILD CHILDREN'S HOME

Is a Kentucky boy or girl worth the price of a smoke?

And if it is, are you willing to back up your conviction to the extent of a dime—the price of a cigar.

These questions are being asked of every person in Kentucky by the Kentucky Children's Home Society, in an endeavor to raise $300,000 in a five-day campaign which began Monday, for the purpose of building a village of cottages on a farm ten miles from Louisville, near St. Matthews.

As a reminder of what the destitute children, who had been reared by the society, have done in paying the debt to the Commonwealth, the children now in the care of the institution proudly point to their service flag that contains 130 stars, representing the number of older boys who shouldered the gun against the Hun. Five of the number gave their lives for the cause, ten won commissions, and one of the young ladies went to France as a Red Cross nurse.

The society does not deal with the defective children of the State, but with those who are normal, mentally and physically, and shapes them during their formative period of life into good and useful citizens. During more than twenty years of its history the Kentucky Children's Home Society has received from the various counties of the State on orders from county judges about 3,000 children, several hundred of whom are now grown men and women in various avocations of life.

The society was organized for the purpose of taking destitute, neglected and mistreated children, not eligible to other similar institutions, and after

GOVERNMENT HAD NO TAX ON RECTIFIERS

Mr. Morrow has charged that between the years of 1912 and 1916, from an investigation of the records of the Internal Revenue Department it has been found that the Federal government collected from the rectifiers tax on 27,000,000 gallons of rectified spirits, and that during the same period of time the State of Kentucky collected from the rectifiers on only 12,000,000 gallons, and the State tax being 11.3 cents per gallon, for rectifying whiskey, that it had lost the tax on 14,000,000, and that the State had thereby been deprived of $182,000.00.

Mr. Morrow served for several years as United States district attorney, and it is presumed that he knows something about the federal law. But when he says that the federal government collected tax for rectifying whiskey, he makes a statement which the records will not sustain, because during that period of time the United States did not levy or collect any tax for rectifying whiskey. The law passed by Congress authorizing the collection of a tax for rectifying whiskey was not adopted until October, 1917. The State of Kentucky has, since 1906, levied a tax upon the business of rectifying, adulterating and blending whiskey, and this tax is collected by the rectifier reporting monthly to the auditor the number of gallons of whiskey so rectified, adulterated or blended, and from this report, under oath, the auditor figures out the amount of tax due from the rectifier. If the rectifiers falsely reported to the auditor, as Mr. Morrow's statement would indicate, this is not the fault of any officer, but it is the fault of the law, and the same law was in force during the administration of Augustus E. Willson.

A DAY AT FORMER HOME

Mrs. Henry M. Gunn, of Hermiston, Oregon, and Mrs. Richard Amstiger, of Lexington, spent the day here Wednesday. Mrs. Gunn looks well, having aged very little and carries that same happy smile. The professor, all of us loved Professor Gunn, is in the best of health and is doing well, gathering of earth substance and we trust, in the language of his church, the Presbyterian, is "growing in grace." Henry, the boy, in knee pants when here, is now a full grown man of 21 years, in business for a while, but will resume his studies and become a college graduate. The dear little girl, Jennie, too young to articulate plainly when she went to the West, is just one year past sweet sixteen, is in school and is one of the prettiest girls of the West. Everyone was glad to see Mrs. Gunn and I am sure all had the same wish, that these good people would ere long return to Mt. Sterling and again become members of that social family where hearts beat as one.

DRYS ARE WARNED AGAINST APATHY

Warning the dry Democrats and Republicans against apathy the Central Methodist, in its latest issue, urges activity until election day if the prohibition amendment is to receive anything like the majority it ought to get in Kentucky. The Central Methodist says:

"We wish with all the emphasis we can command to warn our friends throughout the State against over-confidence and inactivity between this time and November 4th. The State-wide Amendment is to be voted on, and State officers are to be elected, both of which are of vital importance to the well being of the State.

"We may be sure the liquor interests are not asleep. They are not upon the housetops, proclaiming their plans to the public; they are using the gum-shoe method, knowing that their only hope is to catch the temperance people napping. Various things that have been reported to us are like so many straws, showing the direction of the wind. Certain things that have found their way into the papers could have come from no other headquarters. Let no one think for a moment that the liquor interests have given up and retired from the field.

"It is well known that the Central Methodist is not in politics. We do not take sides in any party affair. We urgently advise our friends, however, never to lose sight of moral issues in casting a vote. And never take chances when one man is known to be straight, and the other, because of past record, is doubtful. The triumph of this or that party is a matter of small consequence, but the triumph or defeat of a moral issue is of greatest import. In the present instance, it is openly charged by one of the Louisville dailies and so far as we are informed it is not denied, that the liquor interests of this city are lining up behind one of the candidates for Governor. If this be true, it is sufficient reason for all temperance advocates to go the other way.

"In the State-wide contest it is not sufficient that the friends of the measure go to the polls and vote on election day; they must be busy between this time and then removing misunderstandings, stirring up the lukewarm and seeing that the indifferent are aroused. If all do their duty the amendment will carry by an overwhelming majority. The only danger of its failing is overconfi-dence and inactivity on the part of its friends."

TEACHERS' PAY HAS NOT BEEN LOWERED

Senator J. A. Hinkle, of Bloomfield, shows the falsity of the claims in another Republican circular attacking the management of the school system of the State in a letter in which he further shows that instead of being reduced the salaries of school teachers have been increased until a first-class school pays a minimum of $50 a month and a second-class a minimum of $45. If the census in a district entitles it to money enough to pay a fatter salary then the school authorities may increase the salary according to the experience and grade of certificate of the teacher.

Senator Hinkle said in his statement:

"They tell you that smaller salaries thinned the ranks of the teachers. Why did they not tell the truth, and say: 'The noble hearted young men who were teaching young America joined with the other patriotic young men of America, and went into the world's great Military Academy and there taught the nations of the earth some lessons that they needed to know. And that many of the flowers of our young womanhood, like Mary, chose the better part and proved to be Florence Nightingales in the ranks of the Red Cross, or in clerical positions at our National Capitol, and in other patriotic pursuits.

"The school legislation of the 1918 session was the essence of the best thought of both political parties. After Senator Roy McFarland, of Owensboro, was unseated and ousted from the Senate, on a technicality, when he had a majority of 992, and his successful Republican opponent had no experience in school work, Republican Senator, Robert Antel, chairman on Fish, Game and Forestry, was transferred to the chairmanship of the committee on education made vacant by the retirement of Senator McFarland. Senator Antel was a pedagogue and county school superintendent of fourteen years' experience, and I imagine that the Republican campaign committee gave him the privilege of laughing in his sleeves about this advertisement, but admonished him to hold his tongue until after November 4, 1919.

"I have often wondered where Ananias got his training that enabled him to gain such lasting notoriety, but having been a member of the 1918 Kentucky Senate, and now seeing that the Republican campaign committee knows so many things that are not so, I am persuaded that he must have been a member of the aforesaid committee in his day and generation."

MORROW ADMITS OPPOSING PARDON OF TOBACCO MEN

While in Louisville Sunday Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor and former United States District Attorney, admitted in an interview in the Louisville Herald that he had opposed pardoning the Grant county tobacco growers who had been convicted of violating the anti-trust laws, and though his name appears on the brief of the government filed in the U. S. Court of Appeals when the five convicted farmers appealed their case, reiterated the statement that he "had nothing to do with the prosecution."

The records of the Department of

The Closing Series of Auction Sales

BY

SWINEBROAD, the Real Estate Man

OF LANCASTER, KENTUCKY

5 Mercer County Farms---663 Acres in All

Friday, November 7th

Saturday, November 8th

Tuesday, November 11th

"Land Hunger is still Unsatisfied." But few farms can now be purchased either privately or at auction. This may be your last opportunity. Swinebroad is the only man in the business who has offered a series of sales in the same neighborhood, so as to give buyers an opportunity to attend and look over the different farms at the least expense. I have refused to offer at auction almost as many farms as I have sold. Why? Because I know land values and will not offer at public sale any farm unless the owner is willing to absolutely "turn loose" or "turn loose" at a price which will justify the buyers to bid. This is one of the reasons Swinebroad "ALWAYS SELLS" and the bidders fix the price. These farms are located in the very best belt in Mercer county.

FARM NO. 1—FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7TH, 10 O'CLOCK, A. M.—On the Burgin and Shakertown pike, 3 miles from Burgin, 2 miles from Shakertown. This is part of what is known as the "Wilder Farm" recently purchased by J. A. Conn. Mr. Conn has decided to keep his home in Garrard county, therefore, this farm is for sale to the "High Dollar." Land is level, very fertile and in high state of cultivation. 25 acres sown to rye, 15 acres in corn and tobacco this year, ready to plow next year. Balance of farm in blue grass. Right on the pike. Beautiful yard and frontage to pike. Large shade trees. Farm is divided into six fields, well fenced and well watered.

IMPROVEMENTS—Seven-room bungalow, with two porches, stock and tobacco barn, garage, tenant house, all necessary outbuildings. Cistern at the house and also at the barn. It is hard to find a little tract like this just as good or just as desirable. Remember, we are going to sell it. 84 acres in this little farm. Just the size farm you have been longing for. Will be sold in one tract. Be on hand promptly at 10 o'clock, Friday, November 7th, as it won't take us long to sell this one.

This is the day of one of the Double Headers. Immediately after the sale of this farm we will go to the Curd Farm, near-by, for dinner, and sell Mr. Curd's farm, stock, etc.

FARM NO. 2—SAME DATE—FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7TH—Just after the sale of the Conn Farm.

125 acres for A. W. Curd. Located on the Curd pike, 4 miles north of Burgin, 3 miles from Shakertown, close to the Shawnee Run Baptist church. The farm where Mr. Curd has raised his fine jersey cows. This farm is well located, well improved and in a high state of cultivation. Just ready for some one to make a lot of money on. You will never be sorry a minute if you buy this farm. Now is the time to buy a farm and good ones are getting harder to find every day.

This farm will be subdivided and 35 acres sold with the tenant house, 65 acres with the main dwelling, the other 25 acres so it can be attached to either tract.

IMPROVEMENTS—They are splendid. An up-to-date, well-built, 5-room cottage, with hall, concrete basement, front and back porches, cistern in back porch; 10-acre tobacco barn, large stock barn, 40x70, with 14-foot shed. Cow barn with 16 stalls, 2 silos. Garage and all necessary outbuildings. Plenty of fruit of all kinds; 5-room tenant house. Farm is well fenced and watered by springs and concrete troughs. Will be sold on easy terms.

At the same time Mr. Curd will sell the following personal property: 50 head of hogs, 10 sows and 65 pigs; 1 Percheron horse, 1 good work horse, 1 harness mare, 4 work mules, 2-year-old mare mule, 16 fine jersey cows, 5 fresh; 2-year-old jersey heifer, 2 yearling jersey heifers, 2-year-old Aberdeen Angus bull, registered jersey bull; farming implements, wagons, mowers, plows, harrows, Blizzard cutting box, 8-H. P. gasoline engine, sorghum mill and evaporator, 14 hives of bees.

Don't forget this farm will sell and don't forget we sell the Conn Farm first on this date. We will have a good dinner for you here.

FARM NO. 3—SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8TH, 10 O'CLOCK SHARP.

102 acres for J. W. Jones, one-quarter of a mile from the Danville and Shakertown pike, good, level road from pike, 3 miles from Burgin, 6 miles from Harrodsburg, 2 miles from Shakertown. This is one of the best little farms I have offered for sale this year. The land has been well taken care of and can all be cultivated, no waste land. 25 acres in wheat, 7 acres in rye, balance in grass and clover. Land is level and gently rolling.

Mr. Jones recently purchased a larger farm, therefore, offers this for sale and somebody may get a bargain as it is going to sell to the high dollar. Terms very liberal. Possession January 1st.

IMPROVEMENTS—8-room cottage, 3 porches, a stock barn, tobacco barn and all outbuildings. Well fenced and everlasting water. One of the best springs in the county. If you want a farm that will pay for itself this is the farm to buy. There will be no knockers on this farm as everybody says that it is a good one.

After the sale of this 102 acres for Mr. Jones we will go to the Gillispie farm near-by. We will have a good dinner at the Gillispie farm.

FARM NO. 4—SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8TH—Just after the sale of the Jones Farm, above.

We will sell for A. Gillispie 142 acres of high-class land, well improved and a beautiful place to live. Right on the Shakertown and Burgin pike, right at the town of Shakertown. In passing, everybody says, "What a pretty place. Wonder who lives there?" And we wonder how we persuaded Mr. Gillispie to sell. But some buyer will get the benefit of our persuading Mr. Gillispie to sell this dandy little farm. It has a beautiful frontage on the pike, an eight-room dwelling, 2 porches, equipped with electric lights, tobacco barn, stock barn, double crib, 2 tenant houses, 75 acres in grass, 20 acres in wheat, balance for corn. Splendidly watered by wells, cistern and pond. Remember, we are selling land in the best belt in Mercer county. This 142 acres will be subdivided and sold for the high dollar in two tracts, one tract of about 30 or 40 acres, and the other tract of 100 to 110 acres, both tracts fronting on pike. Don't fail to look this one over.

At the same time Mr. Gillispie will sell a lot of stock and farming implements, consisting in part as follows: Good work horse, pair of 4-year-old mare mules, pair of 5-year-old mare mules, yearling filly, good milch cow, 3 fat heifers, yearling steer, weanling calves, 2 new two-horse wagons, 1 one-horse wagon, binder, mowing machine, tobacco setter, corn planter, feed cutter, plows, harrows, harness, etc.

Liberal Terms.

Remember the Double Header on this date.

The Jones Farm, above, sells first, and then we will sell the Gillispie Farm. Meet us at the Jones Farm at 10 o'clock.

FARM NO. 5—TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11TH, 10 O'CLOCK—210 acres for G. W. Baker. Location: On the Buster pike, 1 1-2 miles from Burgin, 6 miles from Danville, 5 miles from Harrodsburg.

IMPROVEMENTS—Two-story 8-room dwelling, with hall and 3 porches, cellar, furnace and water works. Electric line in front of house, all that is necessary is to attach. A modern and comfortable home 100 yards from pike. Front yard and grass lawn to pike. Also 2 tenant houses, 2 tobacco barns, 15 acres; 1 stock barn, other outbuildings, 2 orchards, watered by well, cistern, concrete troughs and tank. 50 acres in wheat, 10 acres in rye, 25 acres in orchard grass and blue grass, 75 acres young clover, 20 acres second year clover, 30 acres stubble. Land almost level and very fertile. Just the kind of a farm you have always wanted. This farm is in a high state of cultivation. If you do not take advantage of this opportunity you will regret it. Here is one you will buy for "keeps." Will be subdivided and sold in three tracts, 2 tracts of 50 acres each and one tract of 110 acres. Or we will sell you just the number of acres you may desire. Remember, "You must be satisfied."

ALSO REMEMBER THIS IS AN ABSOLUTE SALE, WITHOUT RESERVE OR LIMIT.

Mr. Baker has bought another farm and he told Swinebroad and Bolivar Bond to absolutely sell this one to the high dollar.

Liberal Terms. Dinner on the ground.

At the same time Mr. Baker will also sell a lot of personal property, consisting of hogs, cattle, horses, mules and farming implements.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Miller are receiving congratulations from their friends over the arrival of a lovely little daughter Wednesday at their home on West Main street. She has been named Florence.

FACTS TO CONSIDER

Voters consider these facts when you vote:

The Democratic party in the State comes before the people with an able ticket and the proud record of every platform pledge redeemed. Compare it with the records of Governors W. O. Bradley and Augustus E. Willson.

In the nation compare the action of the present "hot-air" Congress with the constructive, progressive legislation enacted by the preceding Congresses, which were Democratic. Let us summarize a little by the achievements:

The enactment of the income tax that reaches the swollen fortunes of the rich.

Perfecting of election of United States senators in popular vote, which cleaned the complexion of that august way from a millionaire's club into a truly popular legislative way.

Forced complete publicity of campaign expenditures, which purified politics and gave the poor man an equal chance with the rich man.

Establishment of the Federal Reserve Bank system, the panacea for panics.

Answered the call of millions of toilers with an eight-hour law.

Compelled the railroads to employ safety appliances to preserve the lives of workers and travelers.

A workmen's compensation act for the protection of those dependent on persons engaged in hazardous positions.

The rural credits law, which freed the farmers from the iniquitous and cumbersome mortgage system.

Federal aid to good roads, embodying a program of inestimable benefits to rural sections.

Vocational education to enable the boys and girls of our country to become experts in their favorite occupations.

The agricultural extension act, through which the benefits of science and research are carried to practically every farmer's home.

We could go on and on, but are not these sufficient reasons to continue the Democratic party, the party of the great common people in power both in the State and the nation?

Speak up Mr. Morrow. Answer Owsley, for he has answered you! Are you the only citizen of Kentucky who does not have an opinion as to the League of Nations?

Mr. Morrow only criticizes—a destructive statesman. Mr. Black boldly proclaims his stand upon all vital questions of the day and goes further to announce a progressive program for Kentucky—a constructive statesman.

Campbell Cantrill put the strangle hold on Brother Morrow when he produced the letter of the attorney general of the United States to prove that he knew whereof he spoke, when he accused Morrow of prosecuting the tobacco growers.

Voters of Kentucky, do you wish to return to the old "hoss and machine regime" that made the politics of a decade ago infamous? If you do, vote for the hand-picked ticket of Mr. Tubius Hert, who would do away with the fairest, squarest law ever enacted—the State primary law. This law places the ballot in the hands of the humblest citizen in the most remote rural sections and gives him a voice in the affairs of government. Under the convention system the man who lives in an inaccessible locality is often denied the right of suffrage on account of the lack of conveyance to the distant county seat.

Attention, Democrats! Be sure to register if you haven't already done so. Wednesday is the last day of the special registration.

BIG BOOST

Eastern Division of Midland Trail was represented at Lexington on last Saturday by delegates from three states, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky and Montgomery county was represented by Judge H. Clay McKee, Judge Lewis Apperson, Judge E. W. Seuff, Hon. R. G. Kern and J. W. Hedden, Sr. Many delegates spoke of the progress being made and all pledged their support in pushing the Midland to an early completion. Judges McKee, Apperson and J. W. Hedden, Sr., made spirited talks pledging the co-operation of Montgomery county and assured the organization that preliminary steps necessary to application for State and federal aid would be taken at an early date, that old Montgomery would not become a missing link in an enterprise so essential to public good. It was pointed out that the Midland would pass through that section of the states, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, richest in agriculture and minerals, the marketing of which would mean much to the people. From the tributaries would also come resources too great to estimate. The division was organized by electing Dr. R. R. Elmore, of Louisville, president, and Eugene Stewart, secretary. A committee consisting of James H. Smith, of Elora, Ill.; W. J. McCord, Logansport, Ind., and J. W. Hedden, Sr., drafted by-laws, which were unanimously adopted. Judge Apperson offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

CITY FATHERS SHOULD ACT

We are in receipt of a copy of a letter sent by the War Department to Mayor W. R. McKee asking that the city government buy a quantity of surplus government supplies and dispose of same to the consumer. The government agrees to pay all transportation charges and allow 10 per cent. for handling. The only stipulation made is that the commodities must not be sold at more than the prices fixed by the government, which are much lower than those being charged by retail stores. These supplies consist of clothing, hardware, and foodstuffs. In Louisville and many other cities retail dealers have agreed to handle the goods on a 10-per-cent. basis and are thereby doing much to reduce the high cost of living. It appears to us it would be a great benefit to the public and would prove remunerative to the party enterprising enough to offer to act as agent for the government in disposing of these goods and would prove a splendid drawing card for a store agreeing to do such. These goods must be bought and paid for in the name of the municipality and we feel sure our City Fathers would encourage any firm or firms willing to act as government agents.

MUST GIVE VOTER DRY BALLOT

Under Section 2, Chapter 63 of the Acts of 1918, the clerk of election is required to furnish each voter who presents himself at the polls a ballot on the prohibition amendment. This opinion was given by Assistant Attorney General D. O. Mr. Myatt is of the opinion that it is not necessary for the voter to make a specific request for the ballot.

THE VAST AMOUNT OF BUILDING NEEDED

In a recent address before brick manufacturers of New York and New England, the statement was made that the United States needs of new construction 1,300,000 homes, 450,000 factories, 5,000 schools and public institutions, 55,000 apartment houses, 20,000 theaters and churches, 120 freight terminals and 14,000 railroad stations and freight sheds. We do not know how the exact number was figured out by the speaker who presented these figures nor do we undertake to vouch for their accuracy as a whole, but that there is a pressing necessity for dwellings, for apartment houses, for schools, for churches and for enlarged railroad facilities goes without saying.

It is an interesting fact that the same cry comes from every town and city in the country. That there is a house famine, and yet the newspaper people and the correspondents of outside papers in practically every town in the United States seem to be laboring under the impression that their particular town or city is the only one which is suffering from this house famine. So general have been the reports to the Manufacturers' Record from its correspondents in all parts of the South and Southwest to the effect that there is a growing scarcity of houses that we have had to cut out every reference of this kind since this condition applies not to one place only, but to practically all places.

What is the reason for this tremendous scarcity of dwellings? Why is it that the hotels of the country are so overcrowded that it is almost impossible anywhere to get hotel accommodations except by many days and sometimes many weeks' engagement in advance? The New York man, for instance, knows that every hotel in New York City is constantly packed and overjammed, but he forgets that the same condition prevails not only in every other city in the country, but at all pleasure and health resorts. It is difficult anywhere in the country to get hotel accommodations.

It seems well-nigh impossible to find dwellings and apartments to meet the urgent and ever-growing demand, and people are constantly asking the question: "What is the reason for this?" Some months ago we pointed out the fact that since the panic of 1907 the construction activities of the country have been far below the normal rate of progress. We have, therefore, a vacuum created by 12 years of slow construction suddenly needing to be filled up. During that 12-year period work of all kinds was delayed. Railroad improvements were far less than they had been in previous years. Home building, office building, hotel building were all much below the normal needs of the country. When the war came on in 1914 we were suffering from a very wide-spread business depression. The war brought about a concentration of the entire activities of the country in doing the things which made for the production of munitions, the building of ships and kindred work, leaving almost nothing for home and hotel building. This enormous vacuum, which will demand the utmost construction activity of the country for years to come before it can be filled, is a problem before us, but with the scarcity of labor, the unwillingness of men to work, the disposition to lessen the hours of labor which run through every line of business from the cutting of lumber, the laying of bricks, to the building of the structure for which they are intended, there are delays and ceaseless difficulties. At the very best, if we were driving our construction activities to the limit it would still take us four or five years to catch up with the accumulated needs of the country, and we would then be busy for years to come keeping pace with these growing needs.

There is, however, still another factor to be considered, and that is the enormous movement of population which is going on at an accelerating rate from the country to the city.

Between 1900 and 1909 city population increased by 12,000,000, against an increase of 4,000,000 in country population. Since 1919 the growth has continued even more rapidly, but census statistics are not yet available to give the actual increase. The rush of people from the country to the cities continues unabated. Indeed, for the last few years under the stimulation of the enormous wages paid, men have flocked to the cities, abandoning the farms in order to share in this great wage intoxication from which the country has been suffering since the government began its profiteering campaign of paying $10 and $15 a day and often still more to unskilled labor for the building of war camps and for other purposes.

These conditions are responsible for much of our unrest. Millions of people are suffering from the lack of homes without understanding the reasons, and they are being made by yellow journalism and still yellower politicians to believe that it is all due to some great profiteering campaign of property owners and house builders. The public is being misled to the serious disadvantage of the country and to the development of a spirit of turmoil for which the uninformed can scarcely be blamed. They do not know the cause of these troubles and they are constantly fed up day after day by wild statements without the shadow of a foundation. They are told that all of this lack of homes and the high rents connected therewith are due to some wide-spread profiteering campaign, and do not know why the shortage exists and why it is difficult at present for contractors and builders to go into house construction with the same vigor which prevailed in former years when they knew what the material would cost, what the labor connected with the work would do, and could, therefore, see their way clear. At the present time the builder knows nothing whatever as to what is ahead of him when he undertakes a contract to erect a chicken coop, a factory, a church or a dwelling.—Manufacturers' Record.

James Stucky Says, "Rat Cost Me $125 For Plumbing Bills."

"We couldn't tell what was clogging up our toilet and drains. We had to tear up floor, pipes, etc., found a rat's nest in basement. They had choked the pipes with refuse. The plumber's bill was $125. RAT-SNAP cleaned the rodent out." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Chenault & Oren.

DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE THE DRY BALLOT

Kentucky Democrats are urged to go to the polls November 4th and vote their State ticket from top to bottom. They also are urged to remember the State-wide prohibition amendment, which is submitted on a separate ballot, and to ask the clerk of the election for that ballot if it is not handed to them. They also are urged to see that they mark that ballot after the word "YES" and fold it like the big ballot and hand it back to the election officer at the ballot box.

Supporters of the prohibition amendment in both parties who are usually well informed in such matters, predict its adoption by a majority of 100,000 if it polls the full dry strength in the State. Some of them fear, however, that the majority may be reduced by failure of the dry voters to vote on the amendment.

Campaign managers of both parties are being urged not to overlook the prohibition amendment in their speeches and literature.

HOOPER STRONG FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

"If the League of Nations is to break down we must at once prepare to fight," Herbert Hoover, formerly Economic Director for the Supreme War Council, told the students at Stanford University.

The peace treaties, he said, "cannot be carried out without the League. If the League falls the treaties also fall. If the balance of power is to supplant the League of Nations, we will have torn asunder the only hope that Europe will not break into further wars of races, classes and combinations that will take civilization back to the middle ages."

"I am confident that if we attempt to revise the treaty we shall tread a road through European chaos. If we manage to keep our soldiers out of it we will not escape fearful economic losses."

"The Allies may, themselves, revise this treaty without us and then assemble a council of nations of their own in an endeavor to solve the problems of Europe. It would be a council of Europe and in the midst of these terrible times, considering the debts they owe us, the material they must have from us or starve, I would rather that we be represented therein less it become a league of Europe against the Western Hemisphere. A peace without us means more army and navy for us, the old treadmill of taxes and dangers for us."

Mr. Hoover said that few people seem to realize the desperation to which Europe has been reduced. "During the coming winter some of them will look with longing eyes to this rich, fat nation, with its surplus of every human necessity, he said, 'We cannot fiddle while Rome burns.' If we believe we can see our neighbors return to another 30 years of war through the break down of this treaty, and we still maintain our progress, it is the egotism of insanity. Our expansion overseas has entangled us for good or ill, and I stand for an honest attempt to join with Europe's better spirits to prevent these entanglements from involving us in war. We are not dealing with perfection, we are dealing with the lesser of evils."

"For us to refuse to enter into a joint attempt with the well-thinking sections of a large part of the world to establish a continuing moral conscience against war is the utmost folly in our own interests."

Pointing out the likelihood that some European nations will again be plunged into war with their neighbors, Mr. Hoover referred to a probability of the invasion of Poland if the treaty failed.

He said, "there are many elements in Europe who wish to see the treaty break down and the League of Nations disappear. During the last five months our Allies have been growing weaker from a military point of view due to the necessity of demobilizing their armies, while at the same time the reactionary group in Germany has been growing in strength through the hope of yet securing a division of the Allies. At the time I left Europe a month ago German militarism had already re-established itself as a well-disciplined, well-officered army of at least 400,000 men, largely congregated on the Polish frontier and even defying the government at Berlin. Under the alarm of this danger the Poles in the midst of the greatest economic misery that a nation ever knew, have been trying to create an army of 500,000 men for their protection from the Germans on one side of the Bolsheviks on the other. If the treaty is ratified the German army will be reduced to 200,000 men and dispersed over Germany, and their extra armament destroyed. The failure of the treaty means invasion of the Polish state.

"This is only one of powder magazines in Europe which cannot be destroyed until this treaty is ratified, and during every day of delay more explosives are poured into them."

Mr. Hoover, in beginning, said he had been urged by Mr. Taft to give his views on the peace treaty and that during the ten months in which he acted as Economic Director of the Supreme War Council he had an opportunity independently to observe the growth of ideas in the peace conference and the re-perussions of these ideas through Europe. He said he was not impatient of honest debate; that he believed the debate on the League of Nations now going on in the United States "is building the very foundation of the league." He did not believe in the criticism of the Senate for not accepting out-of-hand the peace treaty revolved by 500 conflicting minds in Paris.

"The treaty finally agreed upon at Paris is by no means perfect," declared Mr. Hoover, adding that he saw no method by which it could have been made perfect under the circumstances.

He pointed out that scores of international wrongs which breed war existed in the world before the conference was held. Of course, he said, the peace conference corrected some, but predicted it would take perhaps 100 years to correct them all.

"It is often overlooked that this was not a conference to settle the wrongs committed by Allies or neutrals, but by the enemy only," said Mr. Hoover. "It was Germany's wrongs that were on the operating table. It would have been beautiful to have all the international wrongs on the table, but this is not a perfect world."

"No one could be more disappointed than the American delegation that some great wrongs that were the result of the secret treaties that had been written in times of great desperation among the original Allies were not eradicated."

Referring to the probable effect upon an aggressor of enlightenment and the use of the boycott, Mr. Hoover said: "The hope which I, as an independent observer, have placed in the league is that it will forever relieve the United States of the necessity to again send a single soldier outside of our boundaries."

"We hear the cry that the league obligates that our sons be sent to fight in foreign lands. Yet the very intent and structure of the league is to prevent war. There is no obligation for the United States to engage in military operations or to allow any interference with our internal affairs without the full consent of our representatives in the league. If there is no danger that we should be charged with an obligation to any to war, either direct or implied without the full consent and approval of Congress, I believe the President will be the first to agree to any interpretation that this cannot be. To me every line of it is the complete negation of militarism."

BIG RED CROSS DRIVE

To Be Inaugurated Nov. 2nd With R. L. Coleman as Chairman. "A Dollar and a Heart" Is all One Needs

The third Red Cross Roll Call starts November 2 and lasts until November 11. Robert L. Coleman has again been made chairman of Montgomery county, and has selected as his assistants Stewart C. Sharp, assistant chairman; Mrs. Mary W. Lockridge and Mrs. Patty Johnson Riley, who will have charge of headquarters; Miss Ethel Baker, who will act as chairman of the women solicitors in the county, and Misses Florence Shirley and Elizabeth McCoun, who will have charge of the city solicitors. This campaign is nation-wide, and Sunday, November 2, will be known as Red Cross Sunday all over the United States. The ministers on that date will be asked to devote part or all of their sermons to the work of this glorious cause. The campaign is to last ten days, but Chairman Coleman has decided to concentrate his efforts on a three-day's campaign, beginning Saturday, November 1, and ending on Tuesday, November 4, which will be election day. He will have his workers at every election precinct in the county on that day.

Everybody will remember the wonderful work done by the Red Cross during the war, but we must also bear in mind that the Red Cross also has a peace-time work that must be carried on. Who knows but that our own community may at some future time call on the Red Cross for help, as so many have done in recent catastrophes?

It is said that all one needs is a heart and a dollar and it is earnestly hoped that every person in the county will respond when the R. C. girls solicit your membership in the 1920 drive. When the campaign closes let us all be wearing a Red Cross button.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Judge and Mrs. James W. Groves Sunday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Judge Groves and wife are among our most excellent citizens and their host of friends hope they may celebrate many more anniversaries.

OFFICES IN NEW BUILDING

Dr. O. P. Henry, Dr. H. W. Wright, H. D. King and A. A. Hazelrigg have leased offices in the recently completed Traders National Bank Building and will take possession within the next few days.

TEMPERANCE DAY OBSERVED IN CITY SCHOOL

Temperance Day was observed at the City School on Friday, 24th, according to the program outlined by the State Department of Education, co-operating with the State Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The program rendered was as follows:

Song—"Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Temperance Lesson—Boys of 8th Grade.

Recitation—"Drive It Out," Leslie Rogers.

Reading—Lucille Bask.

Song—"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Recitation—"Cigarettes," Harry Richardson.

"Vote for Us," Girls of the 5th Grade.

Address—Rev. Bruce Trimble.

Song—"Onward Christian Soldiers."

A number of visitors were present, also representatives of the W. C. T. U.

Plans are under way preparatory to the celebration of "Armistice Day," November 11. It is probable that there will be a number of patriotic songs and an address by some well-known speaker.

The High School football team was defeated by the Winchester team by a score of 12 to 0, the game being played at Winchester, Friday afternoon.

J. H. Powers, an expert penman, representing the Laurel Book Company, publishers of the Writing Books, used in the City Schools, spent Thursday here and gave a number of valuable demonstrations for the benefit of the local teachers.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT

Judge H. Clay McKee, of Mt. Sterling, who was one of the prominent delegates to the meeting of the National Midland Trail Association here Saturday, is one of the original good roads enthusiasts of Eastern Kentucky and he never misses an opportunity to attend these meetings and emphasize the importance of better roads for his beloved Kentucky. Judge McKee is a natural humorist, a pleasing talker and an optimist, and he usually illuminates any subject which he discusses. His speech at the meeting was greatly enjoyed and was one of the biggest boosts given the Midland Trail at the conference.—Lexington Leader.

A series of very interesting lectures is being given at St. Patrick's church this week by Rev. Arthur R. Miller, C. S. P., and is being largely attended by both Catholics and Protestants. The subject for tonight's (Tuesday's) lecture is "Confession or Why Tell Your Sins to a Priest?" The subjects for the remaining lectures are as follows:

Wednesday night—"Catholics and the Bible."

Thursday night—"The Mass."

Friday night—"Is the Pope Infallible?"

Saturday night—"Why I Am a Catholic."

Sunday morning—"Christianity, the Need of Our Age."

Sunday night—"The Catholic Church and History or the Test of Time."

FOOTBALL FRIDAY

The football team from Model High School, Lexington, will meet the City High School team at the Fair Grounds next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be the first game of the season to be played on local grounds and lovers of this sport will "go early to avoid the rush."

HOLD-UP MEN CAPTURED

Elza McKenzie, of Morgan county, was held up near Robertson's warehouse on the C. & O. tracks Monday night of last week by three men and robbed of five or six dollars. The case was reported to Chief Tipton, who, with Deputy Sheriff Cravens, arrested three men Tuesday morning and placed them in jail. The men were found in hiding in the lumber yard of the McCormick Lumber Co., and when searched were found to be well armed. They gave their names as Dennis Harrington, of New York; William Franklin and Richard Ferguson, of Ohio.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH RACES

Rain interfered with the local race meeting last week and the meet was a disappointing one from a financial standpoint. The races did not prove as popular here as had been anticipated and it is doubtful if the weather had been good if the association would have made any money.

CARNATION BOXES

Mr. A. J. Humphries, florist, Holt avenue, is adding 2,500 square feet of glass to his green house and this will be used exclusively as a carnation plant house. It will have a capacity of 3,000 plants and will produce 60,000 blooms per season.

Nineteen Hundred and Nineteen Louisville, Kentucky

At home

The marriage, which was witnessed by only the immediate families, occurred at the home of Miss Simrall's cousin, Mrs. Spratt Bridges, on the River Road, the ceremony being said by Dean McCready, of Louisville, assisted by Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman, of this city. The only attendant was the bride's sister, Miss Sarah Simrall, of Washington.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Simrall. She was born and raised in this city, and by her amiable disposition and winning personality has endeared herself to a wide circle of friends. For the past few years she has been in training at the Norton Memorial school for nurses and had recently graduated with the honors of her class.

Dr. Dye, who has for several years been priest-in-charge of the Mt. Sterling and Winchester Episcopal churches, is a cultured gentleman, who comes of a wealthy and distinguished Southern family. He is very popular both with his own church people and with others.

Dr. and Mrs. Dye are now in New York and their bridal trip will include Washington, Boston and other Eastern points. After December first they will be at home in Hancock, Maryland, where Dr. Dye has recently been called to the Episcopal church in that city.

TINY FARMERETTE BOOSTS FARM HOME

This is Virginia, in her overalls and blue denim shirt, dressed up like a real farmerette. Virginia has a happy home now, out in the country. But there was a time when she knew what it was to be without a home.

She was taken, a homeless waif, to the Kentucky Children's Home Society in Louisville. There she was given medical care and brought to health, and given the best of care that the attendants at the home could give her until a real home with a family was found for her.

Now Virginia is one of the many little school girls of the state who is going to help build a home for the homeless. When Virginia was in the Children's Home she had to spend most of her time in a little room crowded with other waifs. There was no big, sunny playground, and the schoolroom was crowded and poorly lighted and ventilated. There was not the proper amount of hospital equipment to care for the younger babies who came in. And the furniture and surroundings were cheerless, while Virginia waited for foster parents to take her away.

Under the plan of the school children of the state, all the children who have homes will be given an opportunity to help build a home for the Kentucky children who have none. It will be a fine, modern institution on a farm near St. Matthews, thoroughly equipped with hospital wards, kindergartens and schoolrooms, and with clean, airy bedrooms and baths.

And, best of all, there will be a big playground on the farm, with lots of fresh air and sunshine; and there will be cows and chickens, and fresh milk and eggs and vegetables for the kids in the new home. That is what the $300,000 will be used for, the fund that the school children of the state will raise in the last week of October. It is a "Children's Crusade," and the grown-up children will be allowed to get in on it and help, too.

We have all helped the French and the Belgian children. Now for the Kentucky children.

THIS EDITOR DIDN'T DODGE

Here's a man who believes in taking the medicine he prescribes. And he also gives the same prescription to members of his family.

Thomas A. Dodge is editor and publisher of the Milan Standard, one of the good weekly papers in Northern Missouri, with a wide circulation and much influence.

When the War Loan organization began its campaign of publicity last May Mr. Dodge threw the columns of his paper wide open for "copy" from the organization's headquarters.

Mr. Dodge read this copy and printed a good share of it. He was convinced of the truth the messages contained, and not satisfied with merely spreading the gospel among his neighbors he sent in drafts last week for $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificate for himself and a $100 Certificate for Frances L. Dodge.

WHAT ARE "NORMAL" PRICES? ECONOMIST'S DEFINITION

What are "normal" prices, and when will we get back to them?

Mr. Citizen gravely talks of "normal" when paying twice the 1914 price for a suit of clothes, or a cigar, and Mrs. Citizen likewise reflects on the good old "normal" days when the goods for her dress, her shoes and her hat were selling at less than half of present figures. While Mr. Citizen's wages have been largely increased, he and the missus hold frequent conferences over the doubled, or even tripled bills from the grocery, meat shop and the bakery.

Ferretting out the means of "normal" as applied to economies, Webster's is resorted to, and this is found:

"Pertaining or conforming to a more permanent standard, from which, if individual phenomena deviate on either side, such deviations are to be regarded as self-corrective."

This definition was offered to Cecil F. Elmes, an eminent Chicago engineer, for translation.

"It means," he said, "that the 'normal' price is a price which corresponds to the cost of production. The standard to which a price must conform is, therefore, not necessarily a price that we were accustomed to five years ago. Past experience has established no mathematical standard to which a price may be expected to conform. In 1919 the standard is the cost of production in 1919, and not the 1914 cost of production."

"There is no justification for assuming that $12 is an unfair price for a pair of shoes today simply because the same pair of shoes might have been bought in 1914 for $6. The only criticism for the present price of shoes is the present cost of production of the shoes plus a reasonable margin of profit to those concerned in the making and selling of the shoes. Similarly this applies to street car fares, electric light, gas and telephone bills. And strictly

"normal" wages in 1919 must not necessarily conform to the wage scale of 1914. 'Normal' wages in 1919 must cover the cost of living in 1919 with a reasonable margin.

"The fact that a price has been a fixed amount in the past is not necessarily an indication that it is a 'normal' price in 1919. The standard to be paid for services rendered is not fundamentally the charge the public has been accustomed to pay, but the cost of production of the commodity that is being sold. It is also true that the normal valuation in 1919 of any piece of property, whether it be improved real estate or a public utility, is, fundamentally, the total cost of production of that property under the conditions of material prices and wages in 1919."—Adv.

a mere lad, had come to Kentucky from another State Uncle Bill was the first colored man with whom he formed an acquaintance and that friendship lasted throughout the years. Bill was a devoted member of the Baptist church. Peace to his ashes.

The Springfield Sabbath School was delighted to have with it Sunday Mr. Thomas B. Talbott, of Lexington, and his charming daughter, Miss Lucy Brent Talbott, of Louisville. WE ARE COMMITTED TO THE PEOPLE'S INTERESTS

Our people would be pleased to know the proposed line of the Midland Trail, the kind of road to be constructed, its benefits and how the end can be gained. First, we want to say that we favor every improvement, every progressive step that would keep Kentucky and our county especially in front with every worthy helpful enterprise. It is useless at this time, it would be time thrown away, to discuss the advantages derived from good roads. A comparison of the old-time dirt roads with what we have even to this day shows the benefits to all business interests. Now the Midland Trail is a line of road, the very best that can be constructed, and is a main line, to be tapped by similar lines following the construction, or simultaneously with the construction, so that much tonnage may be carried by modern conveyances and that products of the farm and mills may be swiftly delivered to the great markets and the home consumers as well.

This Midland Trail has a beginning at Richmond, Va., on the East, passing through leading cities in West Virginia, entering Kentucky at Ashland, coming down through Morehead, Owingsville, Mt. Sterling, Winchester, Lexington, Frankfort, Louisville, giving a popular trail through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, with a Western terminus at St. Louis. At once the obtuse minds would readily grasp the incalculable benefits not alone to the respective counties and States, through which the Trail is to pass, but to our entire country, North, East South and West. Who could oppose such a movement? Only the antiquated kind: those who are satisfied to rest without any advancement, without any speed, without any get there.

Is it going to cost money to secure this great thoroughfare? Yes. How much? Just according to the quality of the road agreed on for construction. How could this road of wonderful cost be constructed? By county aid, most generally a 20c levy, State and federal aid. Twenty cents on the hundred dollars creates a sum which, added to by the State or federal aid may give the amount most generally needed and if not, then we have a way out by resorting to a bond issue. When can this be done? So soon as our courts can get ready and make the application. Federal and State aid are ready for use now. Will Montgomery be a missing link in this great beneficiary? We say no! Our people are enterprising, our lands are the most productive and our farmers deserve the best. We pledge ourselves now in favor of this great movement, which would bring inestimable benefits to all.

NAILING CAMPAIGN LIES

In their campaign of slander and vituperation the Republicans have overshot the mark and their campaign lies are acting as boomerangs.

They are charging the Democrats with wasting the people's money on the Insurance Commission, when, in fact, not a red cent of the expenses of the insurance bureau comes out of the public treasury. The fund for this is collected from the insurance companies.

Neither will Mr. Morrow name any of the alleged useless offices he would abolish if Fate should perchance be unkind enough to Kentucky to allow him to be elected. The official head of every Democrat would come off, of course, but his place would be filled by a Republican.

And while Morrow is trying to squirm out of the responsibility of the conviction of the Grant county tobacco growers, the Federal Court records not only disclose the fact that he did prosecute them on the appeal in the United States Court of Appeals, but also wrote a letter protesting against their pardon.

The saloon element in the cities is solidly behind the candidacy of Morrow, which is significant. The liquor element is the recognized impediment to law enforcement at all times, and their united support damns any cause.

Democrats are not being fooled by the propaganda of the Indiana millionaire boss who picked the Republican ticket. Neither are they unaware of the significance of the studied avoidance of the momentous national issues by the Kentucky Republicans.

There will be no bolting by the Democrats this year. The Republican party's deliberate ignoring of the questions that are so vital to liberty and freedom stamps it as purely a spoil seeking party, and Democrats will not be fooled by their blatant claims. Morrow's hopes will be punctured like a toy balloon November 4th, and he will go back to Somerset to sing his awan song: "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles."—Morgan Messenger.

BURY HIM DEEPLY

Morrow has criticized in all his campaign speeches the enormous increase of $8,000,000. Logic applied to this criticism would mean the Republicans in power would not have had it so. In other words, Morrow would take from the old Confederate soldiers their pensions of $2,500,000. From good roads expenditures, $3,000,000, and from the school teachers, $3,000,000. This aggregate more than makes the expenditure complained of. Old soldiers, you and your friends get to work and gloriously defeat the man, Morrow, who would deprive you of your sustenance and you, the citizens of this great commonwealth, who know the necessity of good roads, you farmers who market your produce, get busy and snow Morrow under deeply, for he would use his influence to cut short any expenditure that would give you better roads; and you underpaid teachers and friends to the public school system, see to it that your votes, your influence would count in sending this man Morrow, who would deprive you of your additional $3,000,000 appropriation and reduce your meager pay to the shades of political death. Bury him deeply, for the man who opposes the old soldier's pension, the good roads movement and better schools, with increased pay for the teacher should have no place in Kentucky administrative affairs. Bury him deeply.

DID NOT KEEP WORD

The County Unit Law was pledged to the people by the last Republican administration and they did not keep faith with the party that elected it, but traded this pledge for a United States Senator, the election of W. O. Bradley, uncle of Morrow. Bradley was a whiskey sympathizer and was elected by saloon Democrats of the city of Louisville. The voters may depend on the same tactics now as then. There is no doubt but that Morrow would about silently over the defeat of the prohibition amendment to the State Constitution. This same party was committed by platform pledges in 1907 to pass the county unit measure and well do we remember how that pledge was violated. The parties vying for supremacy now are of the same lineage as then, with doubtless the same conviction. They cannot be trusted. Prohibitionists having been betrayed once will not try them again. This administration failing to carry out their pledge, it remained for the Democratic administration, under James B. McCreary, to write the county unit measure on the statute books in 1912. Republicans have been mighty good to promise, but it has been the Democrats that have enacted into law. Voters, who will you trust, those who promise or those who do?

TWO PROHIBITION ELECTIONS

Both Kentucky and Ohio are to vote this fall upon State-wide prohibition amendments, despite the fact that a federal prohibition has been adopted and will become effective next February.

The Kentucky amendment was submitted as far back as February, 1918, or a full year before the federal amendment was adopted. The argument for adopting it is that, should the federal amendment ever be repealed the State amendment will stand. In addition, the adoption of the State amendment will give our State courts authority to aid the federal courts in enforcing prohibition. Lastly, the adoption of State prohibition by a decisive majority will have a good effect and we hope that all the supporters of prohibition in this State will not fail to cast their ballots in the right way.

VOTE THE AMENDMENT

Don't think the prohibition fight is over. We are in the very midst of it. Call for the separate ballot and vote YES, as indicated elsewhere in this issue. The prohibitionist who claims the prohibition fight is over is like the ostrich hiding his head in a pile of sand and because he cannot see danger thinks there isn't any. He reasons that with the nation going constitutionally dry in January, 1920, nothing can be gained or lost in the result of the November vote on the State Constitutional Amendment. He forgets that the liquorites the country over are hoping for a favorable verdict so that they may herald the news far and wide as indicative that dry sentiment is on the decline and that booze is scheduled for an early return.

WHAT THINK YE?

What do the Catholic voters think of this? Hon. Ben Johnson, Congressman, and who is a Catholic, says Ed. Morrow is a member of the order of Junior Mechanics, which order's fundamental principles declare that no Catholic shall hold any office or any position of trust. Morrow has not denied this charge. All these orders require an oath and there are no exceptions. Whatever the Junior Order of Mechanics stand for that is what every member is pledged and sworn to carry out.

From the way, Ed. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor, is cornered on every charge made against Democratic administrations it would seem he just started his tongue a going and then went off and left it. Such a fellow for Governor! The records at Frankfort and at Washington have done the work for him.

Division Officials Answer Questions About The Peace-Time Red Cross

"Motor Corps, canteens and base hospital units operating under the Department of Military Relief are being reorganized for peace time. First Aid is being promoted in an effort to save lives. Soldiers in camps at home and abroad still have the Red Cross with them."

W. E. Kellogg, Director,
Department of Military Relief.

"Red Cross courses in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick and Dying, training and enrollment of nurses for public health service and preparation for community emergency services are making the Red Cross nurse a vital factor in raising health standards at home."

Miss V. Lota Lorimer, R. N., Director, Department of Nursing.

"Disaster and Emergency Relief has been organized. Information Service established and Home Service will, in many cases, be extended to meet the needs of civilian families as needs of soldiers, and their families were met during the war."

Starr Cadwallader, Director, Department of Civilian Relief.

"The Junior Red Cross in American schools is giving a new inspiration in work and play to teachers and pupils alike. It establishes a link with the world and trains the children in the ideal of international neighborliness."

CAMPAIGN MANAGER ANNOUNCES DIVISION ROLL CALL QUOTA

THE Red Cross Third Roll Call aims to sign up 2,490,000 Red Cross members for Red Cross service in 1920, according to an announcement made at Lake Division Headquarters today by MacKenzie R. Todd, campaign manager for Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Chapters in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, which number 357, have been supplied with campaign material from division headquarters in preparation for the November 2-11 drive for Universal Membership. Cincinnati chapter has sent an order for 70,000 buttons over the number assigned the chapter by division headquarters. Toledo has promised 90,000 at least and Dayton is counting on enrolling at least 63,000 members. Ashtabula has written Mr. Todd asking for double last year's quota. To date 85 of the 108 Ohio chapters—90 of the 144 Kentucky chapters and 69 of the 105 Indiana chapters have appointed special Roll Call chairmen to conduct local campaigns for members. Red Cross peace service to humanity is as important as the organization's war service, in far-reaching effects for the betterment of humanity.

HIGHEST HONOR BESTOWED

J. Thompson Guthrie is one of three senior students in the College of Engineering, Kentucky University, that was given the highest honor bestowed on a student of the College, when he was pledged to Tau Beta Pi, honorary fraternity in the principal complimentary to Mr. Guthrie and honorary fraternity in the principal words to Mr. Thompson Guthrie and others. Mr. Guthrie was here over Sunday and returned to the University Monday. He will graduate at the University with the close of this school year.

PRICES WILL NOT FALL SAYS GOVERNMENT EXPERT

It took thirteen years after the Civil War for wholesale prices to get back to the pre-war level, according to Thomas S. Holden, economics investigator for the United States Department of Labor, who has just completed an exhaustive investigation into the 1919 price situation as it relates to the public utility industry. The circumstances of that period, he says, were even more favorable for price reductions than they appear to be at the present time, because the Civil War, compared with the one just ended, was a purely local affair.

"The reason why the present situation has been so difficult to understand is the fact that it is a world-wide phenomenon," the government expert says. "The scope of the economic changes has been as wide as the war itself."

"In January of this year the Bureau of Labor Statistics' index figure for wholesale prices of all commodities showed an increase of 102 per cent. over 1913. At the same time the price level in England was 117 per cent. higher than in 1913; in France it was 240 per cent. higher. It is significant that France, which showed such a marked rise in the price level, resorted to inflation to a much greater extent than did either England or the United States."

"Little evidence is in sight pointing to a decline of prices in general. Slight declines in some materials have been offset by slight advances in others. As a group the prices have been practically stabilized. Not only is the need for building activity pressing, but scarcely second to this need is the necessity of making many repairs and improvements in our various systems of transportation and other public utilities. The problem of the railroads is being carefully studied by railroad men and public officials. The owners of other public utilities are asking the public through its duly constituted officials, to grant them relief from the unfavorable conditions under which they have been operating."

"The public has a right to expect that its servants will safeguard its proper interests in whatever adjustments of rates is made. The owners of public utilities have equally a right to expect the public officials to take into consideration operating conditions and costs that prevail in 1919."—Adv.

CURE FOR BOLSHEVISM

"It is not an unwarranted assumption that the cultivators of the 6,717,000 farms in the United States represent an actual voting power of 15,000,000," says the Kentucky Committee on Public Utilities Information. "The largest vote ever cast for a Presidential candidate was 18,528,743 in 1916. If we add to the number of existing farm owners the city real estate owners, the Liberty Bond owners, savings bank depositors and holders of public utility and other securities, the army of the 'haves' will so greatly outnumber the 'have-nots'—and who make no attempt to 'have'—that the latter could have no show whatever in any attempted revolution resembling what has been witnessed in Russia, and which seems to have disturbed so many present-day statesmen."—Adv.

Political Comment

MORE SUITABLE FOR OFFICE OF CONSTABLE THAN GOVERNOR

Congressman Burkley, in his speech at Winchester, places Morrow where he belongs. He charged Morrow with conducting a cheap campaign of vilification and misrepresentation, saying the Republican candidate tells only one-half the truth, leaving the people suspended to guess at a conclusion in back stair gossip.

"While he lacks the ability of courage to discuss any of the greatest fundamental principles of government he charges everybody with fraud and mismanagement, but does not tell what he could do to eradicate the monstrous evils he says exist, making his campaign more upon a plane suitable for a candidate for constable than for the great office he is asking for."

Morrow's charge that the "fire-putters-out" are costing the people of Kentucky "enormous sums" is about as near the truth as Ed. ever gets, for they don't cost the people of the State a penny. One-half of one per cent. of the premiums paid insurance companies is paid by the insurance companies for this purpose. The more Ed. speaks the bigger Black's majority will be.—Morgan Messenger.

NOTHING ELSE TO DO

The President refused to sign the prohibition enforcement bill because it included the enforcement of war-time prohibition. The objects of war-time prohibition, the President said in his veto, had been satisfied, and "sound public policy makes clear the reason and necessity for its repeal." The House and Senate have the matter before them now and doubtless a law will be enacted and the wet business will be at an end. This will be the proper thing also.

NO POLITICS

The Central Methodist does not take political sides, but in this, as in all other campaigns, advise the support of men of the highest standard of morals and to be a judge of futures by past conduct. We add just here that Governor Black is supporting a missionary in China and a daughter is doing likewise. What's Morrow's record? "A tree is known by its fruits."

A Rift in the Clouds OF High Clothing Prices

Famed for the high standard of quality always maintained and their method of conducting business along modern and fundamentally correct lines, the United Clothing Stores, Inc., have just entered the Mt. Sterling field and their store at the corner of Main and Maysville streets, heretofore known as "Julian's Corner" and hereafter to be known as the United Corner, is now open and respectfully solicits a share of the public's patronage.

The Same Price to Everybody--For Cash

Each article in this store, whether it be a handkerchief or a suit of clothes, is marked with the retail price—the price at which that article MUST sell and which cannot be diverted from under any circumstances whatsoever.

No article in this store will be sold cheaper to one person than to another. The price is the same to "Prince and pauper" alike.

They tell us that we cannot compete with the old "long time credit" stores, and we laugh—we laugh because we know the intelligent public realizes that a store doing a strictly cash business can sell at a lesser margin of profit than the credit store. Here the cash buyer does not have to pay for the hazard of bad accounts, which necessarily must be added by stores doing a credit business. No bookkeeping and collecting expense.

TRAINING LITTLE CITIZENS

(By Mand Burnham)

There are many mothers who are careful to supply the material wants of their children, but entirely overlook the importance of joy and happiness which are the birthright of every child; such mothers do not enter into the play life of their little ones.

The founder of the Kindergarten appeals to parents thus—"Play is not trivial, it is highly serious and of deep significance. Cultivate and foster it, oh, mother; protect and guide it, oh, father. To the calm, keen vision of one who truly knows human nature, the spontaneous play of the child discloses the future life of the man."

Parents who enter into the play interests of their children gain their confidence and affection. Where there is real understanding and sympathy in the home, children are not tempted to go to outsiders for amusement. It is only by taking a real interest in what the child does that we draw him to us. We cannot demand entrance into his life. Parents may exact obedience, but no one can exact affection.

Happy the home where the mother plays with her children. The mother who works every moment is no joy to herself nor to her family, for if she does not become irritable she generally smother's spontaneity and happiness, nor does she ever know what it means to be the glorified mother at the end of the day.

The "glorified" mother is the one who finds recreation in having the family together after the tea things are put away. She can join in the children's games, such as drop the handkerchief, hide the thimble, conundrums, parcheesi, dominos or the simple card games such as "slup" times she can read aloud the bedtime stories.

CHANGE IN CONGRESS WAS A GRAVE MISTAKE

It's clearly apparent from the wrangling now going on in Congress that the result of the last November election was a grave mistake.

President Wilson's appeal to the voters of the United States to maintain its Democratic working force should have met a hearty approval at the ballot box, but it fell on deaf ears. By every right of justice the voting population of America should have manifested even a greater consideration and a more loyal support than other nations manifested for his loyalty, co-operation and efficiency in helping them to gain the war, but the results were that our noble and worthy President was not only embarrassed by a selfish and inconsiderate political action, but a cloud of distrust was cast upon the nation's loyalty to Democracy.

President Wilson with his Democratic working force in Congress had the whole situation, both national and international, fully and efficiently in hand. The President's war declaration for Democracy, the freedom of the seas and the world had gone forth to the ends of the earth as a harbinger of inspiration to awaken the entire world to a full realization, not only of the dangers imminent and the terrible conditions which had arisen, but the necessity for a united world, Democracy and a world peace, which could only be established by a league of nations.

Thus it was apparent that the pulse of the world had been touched and quickened by the President's forceful and unprecedented declaration; hence, almost the entire world was soon wrought up to a tension of stability where it could stand for Democracy. Thus all the nations began to look at Democracy as the rising sun of their hope, but, alas, just as the rising sun of Democracy began to cast her first effulgent rays of light above the eastern horizon the G. O. P. of graft threw up her same old moon of eclipse to darken, if possible, the rising sun of Democracy, and thus kill the League of Nations and thereby hinder the further spread of the President's popularity.

President Wilson did not only throw himself on the altar of his country as soon as he was elected to re-establish, adjust and enforce the principles of Democracy which were battered down by a Republican Congress, but he also went to the peace conference and there, with unbiased and exquisite skill, offered the best energy of his will for the maintenance of Democracy, the freedom of the seas and the world. No man since the Son of God poured His blood upon the world's altar for the redemption and salvation of all men has reached as high and launched out as far as President Wilson, for the uplift and safety of all peoples. Not only has his whole administration been safe, sane, aggressive, efficient and praiseworthy, but his whole war record has been even more commendable and of greater magnitude. Never since the dawn of creation has there been greater energy and efficiency displayed by mortal man than President Wilson has manifested in our national affairs and in the world's greatest war. Through his skill and energy the world war has been brought to a speedy and successful end. You may bring all of the earth's greatest men of renown and stand them up beside President Wilson and he will tower above them all. The fact is, the President has planted his feet high upon the hilltop of fame, and all his political enemies can never destroy his character, and when they all shall have passed into the dark shades of oblivion the name of Woodrow Wilson will still go ringing around the world and up to heaven as the greatest exponent of Democracy, the freedom of the seas and the world that ever stood upon the top side of the earth and the noble characteristics of his life will ever follow him. God and the world will honor him, but his political enemies will not.

GLASS URGES PUPILS TO SAVE

Secretary of the Treasury Glass has sent out an appeal to the 20,000,000 school boys and girls of the country, urging them to continue the habit of earning and saving money and investing it in government securities. In addressing them as the producers, consumers and home makers of the future, the Secretary of the Treasury praised the wonderful work the school children did during the war in production of needed materials, saving of food and money and investment in government securities.

Sky Went Along.

A woman was leaving a home where she had been very happy, and, as she boarded the train which was to take her away, the tears came fast. Her little son, anxious to comfort her, tried the effect of a cheering discovery he had just made. "Why, mother," he exclaimed, "the sky is going right along with us." Other faint-hearted people need to make the same discovery. No matter what we leave behind, the best goes with us.

PASS WAS ASKED FOR MORROW AID

Much has been said in this campaign about passes being asked for by Democrats. One pass asked for by a Democrat, a whiskey Democrat, who in the general assembly has held the interests of the liquor men of the State supreme above everything else, the Democrat who prevented the enactment of the anti-handbook bill in the last legislature, who boldly admitted on the floor of the House he "played poker" at times, has not had any attention at the hands of the Republican boiler plate artists.

This Democrat is H. J. Myers, of Covington. Myers wrote this letter to Bob Fleming, attorney and legislative agent of the L. & N. Railroad at Frankfort. It is said by those who have been careful observers at Frankfort during legislative sessions that Myers was very successful in obtaining passes for his friends. Here is his letter:

"Dear friend Bob: Please send me pass for Mrs. Goldie Reardon from Covington, Ky., to Trenton, Ky., and return. Now Bob, this lady is Ed. Morrow's stenographer, and I am getting this on Ed. and Maurice Galvin's request. Mr. Galvin is doing his best to get off all opposition to me, so please rush it at once, as you know the good it will do me.

Your true friend,
"HARRY J. MYERS."
This letter became public through the investigation of L. & N. passes by a committee of the Senate. It is on record and was printed in the report of the investigation.

NOT NECESSARY TO TAKE A CHANCE TO GET RICH

"You can't get rich without taking a chance," says the smooth promoter of the risky propositions that a large share of the public delights to buy.

That the promoter's words are as false as his stock will be revealed to any one who cares to study the methods which have made men successful in their lines.

Ask any man who is accustomed to getting good returns on his money how he decides whether a proposition is worthy of investment, and his answer probably will be that he first of all learns the identity of the men composing the company. The reason for this is obvious. Of what use to invest in a company that has an actual mountain of gold, or a hundred thousand acres bubbling with oil, unless the men composing the company are honest and will give the investor his share?

Yet of the hundreds of thousands of small investors who annually sunk $300,000,000 in worthless securities before the war, perhaps only one in fifty ever even inquired as to the reputation of the men selling the stock and not one in 500 investigated the shadowy figures composing the company.

Having assured himself that the men he is to entrust with his money are honest, the man who is determined not to lose his capital must next assure himself that the concern whose stock he buys has a sufficient demand for its goods or outlet for its product to enable it to pay dividends. In the case of old and well established businesses this is usually very easily done.

In the case of new companies the investigator always has the sanguine hopes of the promoters, however honest they may be, to discount in the light of known facts. Statistics show that an enormous number of new business and manufacturing enterprises fail every year, despite the honest and vigorous efforts of those starting them. Unforeseen conditions, or untoward developments turn their expected dividends into deficits.

In the light of these facts, can you put trust in the word of the man who says, "Take a chance with your hard earned money!" Hardly! The wise man takes the chance that the growth of the company will make his returns bigger, but not the chance that his money is safe, or that he will get a fair return on it at all times. The man who makes huge sums of money "in stocks" is more a character of fiction than reality. Many men have made a fortune out of some one particular stock. They prospered because they had spent years in studying the opportunities of the company behind the stock.

Hardly. The reason that successful men put large sums into government securities is not that a moment need be spent in investigating the safety of the money that is invested. They are sure of a good return on their money, and have their minds free for prosecution of their business.

Before the war $50 and $100 bonds were not available for the man of small means. Nowadays the beauty of investment in government securities is that whether a man has $50 or $500,000 he can put it into Treasury Savings Certificates, put them away and forget about them, assured of the absolute safety of his money and of a good return. He is further assured that he can turn his securities back into cash at almost an hour's notice.

At present he has the word of all financial authorities of the country that government bonds bought now will yield him a substantial increase in price in coming months. The history of all war issues of government bonds has been that they sold at a premium during a period of many years before maturity.

If you are willing to lose money that has taken you months or years to save, "take chances with it," if you desire to keep it, buy Treasury Savings Certificates.

Sincerity First Requisite.

And least of all is sincerity a quality that can be successfully imitated. It twines through the whole emotional fiber; it has its roots in the heart. "Sincerity gives wings to power," is the way an old proverb happily puts it. Go through any list of acknowledged leaders of business and professional life. You will find there are few who have not been pre-eminent sincere.—H. Addington Bruce.

"Let's do the darn job together"

—Ches. Field

WHY is it that more and more smokers (millions now) are getting together with Chesterfields?

First of all, fine tobaccos. Our own buyers in the Orient send us the pick of the finest Turkish varieties (Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun). We blend these by a secret method with specially choice Domestic leaf.

This method brings out new qualities of flavor—a smoothness, a richness, a mellowness that go right to the spot. That's the reason Chesterfields satisfy.

And remember—"Satisfy" is Chesterfield's secret, based on our own private formula, which cannot be copied.

Every package has a moisture-proof wrapping—another reason for Chesterfield's unchanging quality of flavor.

GARDNER TALKS TO BANKERS

Frederick D. Gardner, Governor of Missouri, has written an open letter to the head of each banking institution in the State, placing his seal of approval on the Thrift campaign.

The Governor's letter follows:

The Government is now prosecuting a National Thrift Campaign, and I hope that all the banks in this State will give this movement their unqualified support.

The organizing of savings societies for the purchase of Thrift and Savings Stamps and the new Treasury Savings Certificates will convert many spenders into savers.

Every new saver created ultimately becomes a bank depositor.

Every new bank depositor, no matter with what bank he starts, is a distinct additional asset to the entire banking community.

A person once having acquired the habit of saving, will be a bank customer all his life. For this reason every bank in this state should push this movement to the utmost of its ability, not forgetting that every Thrift and Savings Stamp and Treasury Savings Certificate sold will ultimately build up a savings account.

Thrift practiced means the retaining of wealth in the hands of those who earn it, instead of allowing it to become concentrated in the hands of the few. Nothing will stabilize our government more than the bringing about of this general condition of thrift.
